Equans Site Visits – February & March 2023

Across February and March, 2024. Employment is for Everyone partnered with Equans to deliver 3 site visits across 2 of their local construction sites.

Equans are an ambassador to our movement and believe in giving autistic people and people with learning disabilities equal opportunities when recruiting.

28 interested individuals attended across the sessions and got the chance to see many of the trade roles in action. As well as find out more about the vacancies, apprenticeships and the work experience & mentoring programmes that Equans have coming up in summer 2024.

“It was a fantastic opportunity to work with the students on this years programme looking at the variety of roles within Equans. Having the learners on our Catcliffe site and seeing how the teams at Equans are rebuilding the homes and community of Catcliffe after the floods in October, we hope has given everyone an insight into the type of works we complete and the skilled opportunities available”

Amy - Social Value Manager - Equans

Equans gave people a real insight into the range of projects that they do and all the different types of jobs and careers people might want to apply for. It was great to see their fantastic community work such as the repairing of the local bowls pitch and where they have planted trees in a local park. People said that they found the day really informative. We look forward to continuing to work with Equans on some great opportunities coming soon.
